Thank you for your support!

Hi, I'm Margaret from Poland. I'm 56 and I'm definitely not Stephen Hawking. He was a famous astrophysicist, and I'm a dental hygienist known only to my family, friends, and the students I used to teach. But I have two things in common with Stephen Hawking. Apart from his passion for astronomy, he was a very active man who used to do sports like rowing and horse riding. So was I a very active woman who used to live life to the fullest with my husband and children. The second thing we have in common is the disease that made our activity impossible. It's ALS (amyotrophic lateral sclerosis).

I was diagnosed with ALS in 2023. Right after hearing the diagnosis, my husband and I cried for a long time. Earlier, I had some awkward symptoms like slow speech and problems with biting and swallowing, but the harsh diagnosis of this inevitable illness changed my life as if I'd heard a serious verdict—a life sentence.

ALS cannot be cured. Medication, physiotherapy, and rehabilitation for patients suffering from it may only make my life easier and delay the effects of this neurodegenerative disease. To achieve this, I require lots of specialized treatment, mostly neuro-rehabilitation and speech therapy. And that requires lots of money. My life may be easier with a little help from my known and unknown friends. If you can help—please do it.
